Pan-London projects providing specialist advice and counselling to women and girls at medium/standard risk from VAWG

About the projects

Ascent Advice & Counselling is a pan-London project provided by 14 specialist service providers and funded by London Councils.

Ascent Advice Plus, funded by MOPAC, has increased the capacity of the Ascent Advice services, extended the time services can provide advice to 26 weeks, and added specialist partners who provide consultancy support for partners working with LBT, deaf and disabled women, and women with learning disabilities and/or autism.

Advice

We provide advice and support to women and girls affected by all forms of VAWG as well as support to professionals. Advice services include:

Specialist BME focused advice from BME organisations across London.

Pan-London specialist Housing Advice, Young Women's Advice (aged 14+), and Sexual Exploitation, including Prostitution, and Problematic Substance Use Advice.

Our services also include Rights of Women's London legal advice line and No Recourse to Public Funds financial Support - download the application form at southallblacksisters.org.uk/no-recourse-fund/#nrf

Counselling

We provide up to 20 sessions of 1-1 counselling and groups in every London borough as part of our London Councils funded work. This includes specialist BME 1-1 counselling and groupwork in a number of languages, and sexual violence 1-1 counselling and groups.
